ITALY SPURNS
SLAV BID FOR
TRIESTE SWAPCHEERING THROGS
GREET PREMIER
BACK IN ROME

Rome, March 23 (AP)—A Foreign Ministry spokesman said today Italy has flatly rejected Yugoslavia's offer to swap Trieste for the Italian city of Gorizia.

The Western Allies proposed the return of the free territory of Trieste to Italy last Saturday. Yugoslavia countered yesterday with an offer to relinquish her claims on Trieste if Italy will give up Gorizia, to the north.

The spokesman said: "It is clear that Italy cannot accept the separation of a part of Italian flesh bartered for another part of Italian flesh."

The Italian answer came only a few hours after great throngs roaring "Viva Trieste" welcomed Premier Alcide De Gasperi and Foreign Minister Count Carlo Sforza back to Rome.

There was pandemonium at the station as Romans, for the first time belatedly, welcomed the return of the Western Allies' proposal to return the free territory of Trieste to Italy. De Gasperi and Sforza were in Turin Saturday when French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault first announced the idea.

Political Trick Charged
Amid continued cries of "Viva Trieste Italiana," "Viva De Gasperi" and "Viva Sforza," De Gasperi told the crowd it was too early to make any definite forecast on the future of Trieste, where Italian and Yugoslav border patrols exchanged shots yesterday.

"We do not know yet what will come," he said. "We must still wait. We must have complete patience. Nothing that happened, was improvised or occurred without effort. And this effort was above everything else."

Sforza also spoke but the shouting of the crowd virtually drowned him.

Soldiers Convicted
Of Stealing Bomber
For 1700-Mile Ride

Balboa, C. Z., March 23 (AP)—Two U. S. army sergeants were convicted last night of swiping a flying fortress for a 1,700-mile ride over the dangerous Andes from the Galapagos to Venezuela. It was their first time at the controls.

The formal army charge upon which they were court-martialed was: "Misappropriation of government property."

The court martial which tried the two soldiers—M/Sgt. Glen D. Woods of Muncie, Ind., and S/Sgt. Theodore S. Havens, Jr., of Washington, N. J.—did not announce sentence. The court's verdict is subject to review by higher authority, both here and in Washington.

The sergeants were accused of taking the only B-17 in the Galapagos Islands, on the equator 730 miles off the coast of Ecuador, for a jaunt to a field near Caracas on Feb. 23. They said they had planned to go to Trinidad, but ran low on fuel.

WORKERS WANT BOOST
DETROIT, March 23 (AP)—The CIO United Public Workers Union, representing about half of the city's 21,096 employees, has demanded 25-cent hourly wage boost.

HE LEARNED THE HARD WAY—Paul Jones, above, director of public information for the National Safety Council in Chicago, spends most of his time telling people how not to have accidents. Now Mr. Jones knows what he means. He learned the hard way. A small patch of ice literally proved his downfall after he had finished judging a safety contest dealing with the "perils of falling on ice." Results of the fall: double fracture of the arm, cancellation of a number of safety speeches throughout the country, and a very red face. (NEA Telephoto)

Coal Strike Issue
Put Up To Truman

Washington, March 23 (AP)—The United Mine Workers today rejected a government plan for ending the soft coal walkout. Cyrus Ching, federal conciliation chief, promptly went to the White House to report the union action.

Ching's move apparently was the first step toward invoking the Taft-Hartley law to halt the nine-day-old strike which has crippled railroad and steel mill operations. Under that law, President Truman is empowered to set up a board of inquiry. After the board reports, the attorney general could ask for the injunction.

The government settlement proposal was turned down in a letter sent to Ching by a three-man UMW committee which received the offer yesterday.

John L. Lewis, UMW president, did not sign the rejection personally.

The committee termed the government proposal "grotesque." Ching's proposal, which was accepted "reluctantly" by the mine operators yesterday, called for creation of a fact-finding board to investigate the dispute over miners' pensions that touched off the walkouts.

However, Lewis would have to send the miners back to work before the plan would go into effect. A welfare fund was set up in the work contract signed by Lewis.

FAMINE SWEEPS
NORTHERN CHINA

People In Communist Territory Starving, Living On Weeds

Shanghai, March 23 (AP)—The Chinese Communists today said large numbers of persons in their areas face starvation.

Their North China News Agency broadcast an appeal that nearly half a million people are entering their first big famine in 11 years.

The famine region centers around the provinces of Shensi, Kansu and Ningxia, all the scene of bitter fighting in the past year. The area is the oldest, and most firmly established, Communist-governed territory. Yen-an, now in government hands, formerly was the Red capital of the area.

"In the worst areas," said Tung Pi-Wu, Communist relief area chairman, "an estimated two-thirds of the 200,000 to 300,000 persons ran all out of grain by the middle of February and are living on weeds, grain husks and other substitutes."

Senator Vandenberg Has 64th Birthday

Washington, March 23 (AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) celebrated his 64th birthday yesterday with the congratulations of his fellow legislators.

Senator Revercomb (R-W Va) arose during the session to wish the president pro tem "many years of happiness and continued service to his country."

The other senators applauded.

FLOODS COVER
LAND IN EAST
AND MIDWESTHUNDREDS EVICTED;
PERIL ABOUT OVER
IN MICHIGAN

Chicago, March 23 (AP)—Flood waters from many rivers and streams spilled over thousands of acres of land in several east and midwest states today, leaving hundreds in some sections homeless.

Hardest hit by the rampaging waters appeared to be sections of Pennsylvania and communities along the Susquehanna and Chesapeake rivers in south central New York.

But there were local floods in Illinois, Indiana, Missouri, Michigan, Iowa, Ohio and Vermont. No heavy rainfall was predicted today for the area menaced by the rising spring waters.

Precipitation was reported in parts of southern Illinois and southern Indiana and in Tennessee and Alabama. Fair weather and temperatures near normal prevailed over other sections of the country, forecasters said.

Boats Reach Hospital
In Pennsylvania, the state's three principal rivers were the main threats. The Susquehanna and Delaware have overflowed their banks while the Allegheny was inching toward flood stage. Many small streams were out of their banks after flash floods and heavy falls of rain Sunday.

In Meadville, one of the communities in western Pennsylvania hardest hit by the surging waters, French Creek still was rising. About 350 families were evacuated from the western Pennsylvania community.

Towns partly inundated include Meadville, Towanda, Lawrenceville, Middlebury, Toga and Warren. In Warren, the General hospital was isolated and nurses reached the institution by boat. The Times-Mirror newspaper suspended publication.

A state of emergency was enacted at Oil City and the Red Cross in Washington said chapters in Oil City, Meadville, Titusville, Shickshinny and Plymouth had been alerted for possible flood conditions.

About 50 families in West Nanticoke, Shickshinny, Hunlock Garden and Moccasinna evacuated their homes as the Susquehanna neared its flood stage of 28 feet.

By The Associated Press
With flood perils substantially over, many residents of southern Michigan river valleys prepared today (Tuesday) to return to their homes.

Flares Give Hope
For Plane Lost In Washington Wilds

Kelso, Wash., March 23 (AP)—A report that two red flares were seen in the mountains east of Tillamook, Ore., kindled hopes today that the signals may have been from survivors of a missing air force C-47.

Oregon state police at Tillamook said a woman, whom they did not identify, told of seeing the flares burning last night.

A ground party was dispatched to the area, approximately 70 air-line miles southwest of Kelso where the search for the California-based transport has been centered.

The twin-engine plane, with eight men aboard, vanished Sunday as it was preparing to make an instrument approach to the Portland, Ore., field. It was near Kelso when it made its last radio report.

Democrats Patch Up
Squabbles; Meet in Battle Creek May 1

Detroit, March 23 (AP)—Michigan Democrats will hold county and congressional district meetings April 9 and send their delegates to Battle Creek May 1 for the state convention.

The dates were set last night at a meeting of the state central committee of the party.

The battle Creek session will choose 42 delegates to the national convention at Philadelphia July 21.

One indication that internal party squabbles were being patched up came in the submission of a proxy by Mrs. Marguerite C. Moore to State Chairman John R. Franco, Moore, secretary of the state central committee, had threatened to walk out of the party last summer.

BABY SUFFOCATES

Limited Draft
And UMT Win
More Support

By OLIVER W. DE WOLFE
Washington, March 23 (AP)—The Senate Armed Services Committee swung its weight today behind President Truman's plea for quick steps to build up America's military forces.

Chairman Gurney (R-SD) reported that 10 of the committee's 13 members already are convinced both a limited draft and universal military training have become an "absolute necessity."

Gurney and nine of his colleagues were the only senators present during a 50-minute meeting behind locked doors with Secretary of Defense Forrestal and Secretary of the Army Royal.

Most of what the three secretaries said remained cloaked in complete secrecy. But Gurney did report when the session broke up late yesterday:

1. The United States has drawn no line, and does not intend to draw one, as the final limit for Russian expansion.

2. There was a great deal of general, rather than specific, discussion of the "generally critical and more progressively serious situation in Europe."

"It is my firm belief that the committee—those that were here—left the meeting feeling there is an absolute necessity for quick passage of both (the draft and UMT) measures," Gurney declared.

FREE ELECTIONS
PROMISED FINNS

Will Of The People Will Be Deciding Factor, President Pledges

BY EDWIN SHANKE

Heisinki, March 23 (AP)—The Finns had a promise from their president today that next July's parliamentary elections will be free.

President Juho K. Paasikivi, at 78 Finland's strong man and oldest active statesman, pledged that the will of the people will be the deciding factor. He said there would be no war in the near future.

For the first time in recent critical weeks, during preliminary discussions on the proposed Russian-Finnish friendship pact, Paasikivi granted an interview to four American reporters yesterday.

The "old man in the palace"—a term Finns use affectionately—talked with optimism about the future. He said he thought there might be a long period of cold war, "but peoples are not so likely to be induced to begin a new war."

He seemed relaxed, now that weeks of conferences with his aides over the Russian proposal have ended, and the Finnish delegation is in Moscow. The group got there yesterday, headed by Foreign Minister C. J. A. Enckell.

State Fairgrounds Building Expansion Program Proposed

Lansing, March 23 (AP)—A master plan for expansion of buildings at the Detroit state fairgrounds was urged yesterday by a committee representing the state board of fair managers and the agriculture commissioner.

The committee, appointed to seek harmony between the agencies, suggested that no building be done on the grounds until a master plan was drawn.

It was also suggested that a plan be drawn to prevent the commission managed maintenance of the grounds from interfering with the board managers.

The suggestions will be presented to the next meetings of the two agencies.

Cleveland Plunged Into Darkness By Switchboard Fire

Cleveland, March 23 (AP)—Electricity was restored to most of Cleveland after a switchboard fire plunged large areas into darkness last night.

The blaze, at the main plant of the Cleveland Electric Illuminating plant, was caused by a transformer short-circuit. It was extinguished quickly.

Street lights receiving current from the municipal power plant, remained on but radio stations were off the air for varying periods.

A baby was delivered under candlelight and through use of emergency equipment at one hospital. At another, a battery operated light was used during a birth.

NEW LANSING
AGENCY ASKED
BY GOVERNORMERGER OF CAPITOL
DUTIES PROVIDED IN NEW BILL

Lansing, March 23 (AP)—Governor Sigler's proposed new state department of administration under a single appointive commissioner was ready for introduction in the legislature today.

The bill would consolidate under a new commissioner the budget, accounting, purchasing, motor transport, building management, construction, and capitol building agencies. It was to be sponsored by Reps. Henry T. Gage (R-Grosse Pte.) and Howard R. Estes (R-Birmingham).

The measure provides that the new agency would be directed by a commissioner appointed by the governor and confirmed by the Senate, to serve at the pleasure of the governor for a salary to be fixed by the legislature. The appointee would be required to be a man "well versed in administrative management and in state governmental affairs."

The commissioner, or someone designated by him, would serve as the secretary of the state administrative board, the state board of auditors and the state board of escheats.

Travel Control Included
The commissioner would be authorized to name his own deputies, division heads and other employees under civil service and to reorganize or transfer duties between the various agencies being merged into the one unit.

The new agency would be given the work of duplicating and mail service, a central clerical and stenographic force, and furnishing "essential office services" to other agencies. It would have control and supervision over the acquisition, operation, maintenance, repair and replacement of all state-owned cars, over the travel of state employees and be instructed to survey all agencies to recommend improved operations.

It also would be given control over all publications by state agencies, as well as public printing.

The existing state budget department, purchasing division, auto control, building division capitol building and grounds and capitol building commission would be abolished.

The bill also would give to the new agency the authority to transfer funds between state departments, a power now held by the administrative board.

Icebreaker Opens
Straits, Moves On To Escanaba Harbor

Sault Ste. Marie, March 23 (AP)—After clearing a passage in the lower St. Mary's River, the Coast Guard ice breaker Mackinaw started on work today to open the Straits of Mackinac.

The Mackinaw will then open the port of Escanaba.

The 30-mile passage between Sault Ste. Marie and Lake Superior was still blocked with ice. However, Coast Guard Commander T. A. Dahlberg said an early breakup was expected in the upper river.

Pittsburgh Steamship Co. announced plans to send its first ship up the river April 1.

Dahlberg said the ice is already getting thinner in Whitefish Bay. Continued east winds will speed the breakup, he said.

Costa Ricans Give Up Town to Rebels,
Flee Into Panama

San Jose, Costa Rica, March 23 (AP)—A dozen Costa Rican soldiers fired their last cartridges at revolutionaries advancing on a border garrison and fled across the frontier into Panama yesterday, dispatches from Puerto Armeres reported.

The colonel who commanded the La Cuesta garrison told a reporter he abandoned the town because it was impossible to defend it with 12 men using single shot rifles against revolutionaries armed with machineguns.

Refugees said the San Jose government, instead of sending reinforcements to the border garrisons, withdrew many of the defenders for service elsewhere. A new front was reported to have opened in the northwestern part of the country.

Blessing At Noon

Vatican City, March 23 (AP)—Pope Pius XII will appear on the balcony of St. Peter's Basilica at noon Easter Sunday to give his blessing to the faithful. The ceremony will be broadcast.

Hatch Denies
Truman Will Give Up Fight

By JACK BELL
Washington, March 23 (AP)—Senator Hatch (D-NM) said today President Truman will "fight through to the end" to whatever political fate November has in store.

Hatch denied rumors circulating on Capitol Hill that Mr. Truman—beset by a Civil Rights revolt of southern party members and criticized for some foreign policy moves—might step aside at the last moment for another Democratic presidential nominee.

"You can say for me—and I have it directly from the president himself—that Harry Truman will fight through to the end," Hatch told in reporter.

"He has cast aside politics and he doesn't care what happens to him politically. He has told me that he intends to do what he thinks is right, without regard to the political consequences."

Hatch, a close personal friend, said he talked with Mr. Truman on the telephone. He said the president—far from being downhearted at the turn of political events—seemed "exuberant."

The New Mexico senator said he attributed the president's attitude to the decision "to forget all about politics," adding:

"I'm not sure, but that's the best kind of politics in the end."

ELLIOTT TAKES
YPSILANTI POST

Public Instruction Head Leaves Lansing To Be College President

Lansing, March 23 (AP)—Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, state superintendent of public instruction, was appointed by the state board of education today to be the new president of Michigan State Normal college at Ypsilanti.

Dr. Elliott succeeds John M. Munson, the president for 15 years whose resignation was accepted by the board today. The change in presidents is effective July 1.

The appointment of Dr. Elliott opens up the superintendency of public instruction for appointment by the governor.

Dr. Elliott was appointed superintendent in 1935 by the late Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald to fill a vacancy. He has been re-elected five times since.

As the college president, Dr. Elliott will receive a salary of $9,600 a year. As superintendent he was paid $7,500.

He previously was superintendent of schools at Ovid, director of research for the Michigan Education Association and finance director of the state department of public instruction.

He obtained a doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Michigan and honorary degrees of doctor of literary law and of education from Albion and Hillsdale colleges respectively. He is married and has two daughters.

Ends In Death For
Benton Harbor Pair

Benton Harbor, Mich., March 23 (AP)—A honeymoon motor trip to the southwest ended tragically yesterday, according to information received here, when Arthur Nauman, 25, business manager of the Slaughterback Motor company was killed in an automobile accident near Edna, Texas.

His bride, member of the staff of Mercy hospital and formerly Miss Maradel Davis, was critically injured and is in a hospital at Victoria, Tex.

Mr. and Mrs. Nauman were married here Sunday, March 14 and planned to go to Mexico on their honeymoon.

Russians Continue
Boycott of Control
Council In Berlin

Berlin, March 23 (AP)—The Russians continued their boycott of Germany's four-power government today. All seven meetings of allied control authority agencies scheduled for the day were cancelled by the Soviet chairman.

They cancelled nine such meetings yesterday. Saturday they angrily walked out of the allied control council itself. The three western powers sat tight, apparently waiting to see if the Russian actions mean a total and final break in the four-power administration.

SHORTENING PRICE CUT

Cincinnati, March 23 (AP)—Proctor and Gamble company today announced a reduction of two cents a pound in the wholesale price of Crisco vegetable shortening.

INCOME LEVY
SLASH PASSES
SENATE, 78-11HOUSE APPROVAL BY
OVER 3 TO 1 VOTE
PREDICTED

Washington, March 23 (AP)—The House Way and Means Committee voted 18 to 5 today to accept the $4,800,000,000 income tax-cutting bill passed by the Senate.

The original tax bill passed by the House had called for a cut of $6,500,000,000 (B).

The committee action is subject to House approval. It virtually assures that the Senate bill will go to the White House without change.

WITH MAJORITY

Washington, March 23 (AP)—Senators Arthur Vandenberg and Homer Ferguson of Michigan voted with the majority yesterday as the Republican Senate approved a bill to reduce taxes by $4,800,000,000.

House Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) previously had predicted the House will approve the measure by a "more than three to one" vote and send it to President Truman's desk tomorrow.

Chairman Knutson (R-Minn) author of the tax-slashing legislation, told reporters:

"I hope the president will fall in line with the popular demand for tax reduction, and will not veto the bill. If he does veto it, he is sure to be overridden."

Taft Less Positive

The Senate passed the bill 78 to 11.

"The tax cut is certain. The veto will be overridden," Speaker Martin said.

But Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the Senate's GOP policy committee, was less positive.

Nearly everyone on Capitol Hill looks for Mr. Truman to veto the bill.

Taft told a reporter he thinks the president first will send Congress a message urging an additional outlay of between $2,000,000,000 and $3,000,000,000 for military preparedness as part of this country's new stop-Russia policy.

"I don't know what effect that will have," Taft said.

However, an administration official who asked not to be quoted by name agreed with Martin. He said he sees "no chance" that a one-third-plus-one vote can be mustered in the Senate to uphold a veto.

Martin said House Republicans would try to get the Senate tax cut version approved by unanimous consent today.

But Democratic Leader Rayburn, of Texas, served notice he would put a stop to that. Hence it appeared unlikely that the House could get around to a vote until tomorrow.

Rep. Knutson (R-Minn), author of the original tax cutting bill, announced he is ready to accept the Senate revisions. They trimmed the amount of the tax slash from $6,500,000,000, as approved by the House, to $4,800,000,000.

Odds Against Truman

House acceptance of the Senate figure will speed the measure to Mr. Truman. The president used his veto power twice last year to kill two Republican attempts to cut taxes by $4,000,000,000.

But the odds are against the

CANDIDATES ON LIONS PROGRAM

City Council Aspirants Are Introduced At Club Meeting

The twelve candidates for city council in Escanaba were invited by the Escanaba Lions Club to appear before the club last night, and eight availed themselves of the opportunity to speak briefly in behalf of their candidacy. Illness or necessary absence prevented the others from attending.

Gust Asp, Lions club program chairman, welcomed the candidates and suggested that they tell the club members: 1—Why they wished to become members of the city council; 2—What they consider the most vital issue facing the people of the city at the present time.

The candidates were introduced alphabetically as follows: Fred P. Breitenbach, who has been in the retail food business in the city for 20 years. The steam and water utility problems can be solved by engineers. Breitenbach believes. He said he favored construction of a community building incorporating recreation facilities for the people of the city. He also suggested that the people be supplied with more detailed reports on the operation of the city utilities.

Veterans' Housing
Gayhart E. Carlson was unable to attend because of his work, Asp announced.

Einar E. Erlandsen, an employee of the Escanaba Paper company for 20 years, said his interest in the city was responsible for his becoming a candidate. He is a member of the city recreation board. Erlandsen said he believes the city government is trying to "satisfy the people—but you cannot please all of the people all the time." He favored a better informed citizenry so the people would be more aware of city problems.

Elmer Klasell said Escanaba has the reputation of being progressive and that he wanted to see it keep ahead. He believes there should be representation from North Escanaba on the council, and favored more equipment for the North Escanaba fire station.

William Koppes said he was "born and raised in Escanaba," is a taxpayer, and is vitally interested in city government. He believes that daylight saving time should be abolished except for the summer months. Better veterans' housing should be provided, he said. He also favors a city fire and police commission composed of representative business men.

Favors Fast Time
Edwin F. Kositzky, a worker on the C&NW ore docks, opposed any change in the city's adoption of fast time the year around. He said it provides more daylight recreation time in the afternoon and avoids the difficulties in "switching back and forth." Better library facilities for North Escanaba people, and more recreation facilities for children were stressed by Kositzky.

Robert E. LeMire, Escanaba attorney, described himself as "a self-starter," and said that he was not backed by any committee, group, or organization. He said he believed the principal municipal issue at present is the "water situation." LeMire said he had been informed that lack of sufficient water pressure was responsible in part for "recent catastrophes in which a church and a garage

Construction Firm Established Here By Harold Moline

Offices of the Moline Construction Co., general building contractors, have been established in Escanaba at 1111 Ludington. The owner of the company is Harold Moline, who said the business is being moved to Escanaba from Clare, where it has successfully operated for 12 years and employed about 85 persons.

The company's construction equipment is temporarily stored in one of the buildings at the U. P. State Fair grounds. Building work in which the company will engage here will include the construction or remodeling of shops and business buildings, the construction of light industrial plants, and if there is a demand for it the building of dwellings. In the Clare area the firm also did considerable building work in the development of oil fields.

Stanley S. Sutton is office manager of the company. Moline became interested in Escanaba as the site for his firm after visiting here on a trout fishing trip last summer. He is married and has two children. His family will come to Escanaba after the children finish the school year at Clare.

Marie via Pembine in connection with the Soo Line, also sleeping cars between the Copper Country via the DSS&A and a sleeper between Iron River and Chicago.

Trains Nos. 14 and 21 will operate daily from Chicago to Channing. These trains are known as the "Chippewa," however from Channing to Ontonagon the service will be cut as follows: No. 21 will run from Channing to Ontonagon on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

burned." Trygve Olsen, Escanaba business man, reported that "I have no bones to pick, and I am only anxious to do all I can for the good of the city."

Thomas X. Quinn, another business man, suggested that the candidates and the people stop "thinking of a city divided into North Escanaba and Escanaba, for there is no such place as South Escanaba." He added that he had no "particular problems" that needed discussion.

Samuel R. Wickman, incumbent, is ill and could not attend the meeting. Nevin J. Reynolds was out of town on business, and Donald B. Rheume was also unable to attend.

STRAITS DOCK BEING REBUILT

Improvement Is Speeded To Be Ready For Tourists

Lansing. — Rebuilding of the Mackinac City railroad-ferry dock is advancing through the blueprint stages and if all goes well the construction work will be finished before the heavy tourist business begins, it was reported Saturday.

The improvement program results from the agreement between the New York Central railroad, Pennsylvania railroad and the Arnold Transit line which furnishes boat service between the two peninsulas and Mackinac Island.

The Marine Co. is doing the job for the accommodation of the motor vehicle as well as train passengers but particularly the former who were forced to carry their luggage about a quarter of a mile or submit to a baggage tariff out of proportion to the service rendered.

Tourists again will be permitted to drive their cars onto the dock, a privilege of many years which was terminated last year in the interests of safety and a parking lot—a baggage transfer organization.

Sufficient turning space for automobiles at the end of the dock will be provided as will a concrete walk with guard rail. The roadbed of cinders will be made dustless. A baggage service for those who want to patronize it will be available.

Escanaba Elks Picks Officers Wednesday

Election of officers in Escanaba lodge 354, B. P. O. Elks, will be held Wednesday night. The meeting will follow a dinner to be served from 5:30 to 8 p. m. Menus will give a choice of ham or fish. Officers to be elected Wednesday night include: exalted ruler, esteemed leading knight, esteemed loyal knight, esteemed lecturing knight, secretary, treasurer, tiler and three trustees.

tanogan on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday and No. 14 will run from Ontonagon to Channing on Wednesday, Friday and Sunday.

Trains Nos. 709 and 714 will operate out of Channing and Iron River on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

Curtailment is explained due to the fact that the Office of Defense Transportation has issued General Order No. 69 directing the railroads to curtail passenger service of trains using steam locomotives by 25 percent to conserve coal and the same order provides that Diesel Power cannot be substituted in place of steam.

Appeal Made For Funds To Aid Crippled And Afflicted Children

Appeal letters for contributions to aid crippled and afflicted children and adults have been mailed to residents of the county by the Delta County Chapter for Crippled Children and a generous response is indicated, according to James Degnan, chapter chairman.

"Give whatever your heart prompts," Degnan said in pointing to the need for funds locally and throughout the state.

For many years there has been a continuous program leading to physical care, special education, vocational guidance and training, social and economic adjustment for the physically handicapped of Michigan. This service is provided regardless of the cause of crippling.

Other members of the Delta County Chapter for Crippled Children are John Lemmer, Mathias Petersen, Nevin Reynolds, Dr. D. H. Boyce, Leslie Olson, Dr. W. A. Lemire. In Gladstone the chairman is Mrs. Clyde Fitzpatrick.

Locally the need for funds is great, since in Escanaba there are special physical therapy and special rooms for the care and training of the crippled and afflicted children of the county. This program is financed in part by the Easter Seal sale fund, and in addition there are other services offered here and at the state level that must be maintained if the program is to continue.

The Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults maintains 30 rheumatic fever diagnostic and control centers in the state. These are financed in whole by the society.

There is also the state-wide program of occupational therapy and craft service to the home-bound cripple; and further development of specialized services to the cerebral palsied.

HOME SCORCHED IN FLASH FIRE

Flames Wreck Kitchen At 216½ N. 12th Monday Night

A flash fire gutted the kitchen and severely damaged an adjoining room at the residence of Clara Peterson, 216 North 11th street, Monday evening.

Miss Peterson was at home at the time of the fire. When she opened the kitchen door from the living room she was met by a wall of flame.

The fire broke out at 9:25 p. m. from undetermined cause. Miss Peterson told Fire Chief Jerry Jerow this morning, however, that shortly before the fire she had been drying wood in the oven of the kitchen range and that the wood caught fire. She said that the wood that was burning was put into the kitchen range and that other pieces of wood were placed in a woodbox. It is possible that embers from this wood may have started the fire, the fire department reported.

The intense heat burned the furniture and severely scorched the walls, windows and doors in the kitchen and damaged the adjoining room.

The property is owned by August Leaf, 212 North 11th street.

Loads Limited On All U.P. Highways

Effective midnight tonight (March 23) weight restrictions will be enforced on all state trunk-line highways in the Upper Peninsula, Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler has advised the U. P. branch office in Escanaba.

Weight restrictions previously were established on all trunklines below the Straits, and the extension makes the same regulations apply to Upper Peninsula highways during the period of the spring break-up. Purpose of the load limiting order is to protect from damage, so far as possible, the highways that have been softened up as the frost leaves the ground.

The load limit order mostly affects heavy trucking, or the move-ing of heavy equipment or building.

Highway Commissioner Ziegler previously announced that the enforcement of weight restrictions would be delayed as long as possible and removed as soon as conditions would permit, so that trucks would not have to limit loads longer than necessary.

Because of the spring breakup, trucks with a gross weight of more than 5,000 pounds will be limited to 35 miles an hour. Similar weight restrictions were imposed on the lower peninsula effective noon, March 21.

Decision On Trieste

THE BIG THREE powers of the United States, Britain and France scored a heavy blow in their cold war with Russia over control of the Italian government by advocating a return of the port city of Trieste to Italy. The announcement made over the weekend was greeted with undisguised jubilation by the Italian people. Needless to say, the Russians were not at all happy about the sudden turn of events.

Trieste has been declared an international port under the terms of the Italian peace treaty, a free city controlled neither by Italy nor by Yugoslavia. Tito's henchmen have been rapidly fastening their tentacles around the city, however, preparing to take over when Red leaders give the word.

The latest move by the western powers puts Soviet Russia in a difficult position. If Russia opposes the return of Trieste to Italy, the Communists are almost certain to lose the Italian election April 18. If the Russians acquiesce in the proposal advanced by the western powers, which is not likely, they face bitter resentment in Yugoslavia, one of the Kremlin's puppet states.

The decision of the United States, Britain and France to advocate Italian control of Trieste was made, of course, to influence the Italian election. At the moment Italy represents the key to the western powers' efforts to balk the spread of Communism. The Trieste decision virtually guarantees that the Communist faction in Italy will fail to gain enough votes in the approaching election to get control of the country.

Governmental Waste

THE MICHIGAN SURVEY, a state taxpayers association, has uncovered some interesting data regarding the extent of waste and inefficiency in governmental affairs, waste that is costing the American taxpayers uncounted millions of dollars.

The Survey cites as one example the U. S. government's charter of the Swedish liner Gripsholm at a rate of $3,500 per day. The ship was to be used to repatriate American citizens after the war. For one solid year the Gripsholm lay idle in the New York harbor while no one did anything about changing the terms of the charter during that period. The result, of course, was a tremendous bill for American taxpayers for which they received no benefit at all in return.

The Survey also reports that a recent investigation disclosed that the U. S. government is now employing one personnel worker for every 82 people on the federal payroll. In other words, there is one person distributing government jobs for every 82 people working on them, a ratio far out of proportion to generally accepted business practice. It should not be difficult to surmise that if the federal payrolls are choked with personnel workers that are not needed, the rolls must also be swollen with thousands of other employees whom the government could well get along without.

And if that is not sufficient evidence to convince even the most skeptical that government waste is at an all time high, here is some more incriminating information recently discovered. It has been disclosed that the federal government now has three typewriters for every stenographer, secretary, typist and correspondent on the employment lists. Not just one or even two typewriters for every typist but three of them.

Court Fight Looms

BARRING unexpected developments, the coal strike that John L. Lewis has fomented is almost certain to end up in the courts where a major test of the injunction provisions of the Taft-Hartley labor law is shaping up.

Lewis himself is authority for the general belief that the coal strike will not be settled by negotiation or mediation. Lewis wants $100 a month pension for retired miners and seems determined to accept no less, even though the health and welfare fund financed by the present 10c a ton royalty would not support disbursements of this magnitude.

The government will almost certainly invoke the Taft-Hartley act's national emergency provisions if the strike continues to drag and threaten industrial production. In that event the president would appoint a board of inquiry. After the board has completed its investigation and reported to the president, Mr. Truman could direct the attorney general to seek an injunction in federal court ordering an end to the strike.

Lewis has denounced the Taft-Hartley act on many occasions and has left no doubt that he seeks opportunities to fight the labor law in the courts. The first of these opportunities is now upon him, created not by chance but by design.

The present coal strike could not have developed except for the provision in the miners' contract with the coal operators that the miners would not be obliged to work "unless able and willing" to do so. That was an invitation to the miners to strike any time Mr. Lewis cracked the whip. In effect it nullified the contract itself, at least insofar as protection to the operators is concerned.

Possibility Of War?

SENATOR TAFT has defined the present world situation as a "war of influence, not a military war." The question that bothers him, and millions of other Americans, is whether we should assume that hostility will confine itself to spheres of influence or should get ready for a shooting war.

The reason for the world situation is as clear as the senator's definition of it is apt. Russia's conquests have been largely non-military because every other European nation is so weak, militarily and economically, that a mere threat of force is enough.

If nothing is done to change this condition there is every reason to suppose that the Soviet government, aided by its Communist fifth columns, could set up Russian-style governments all the way to the Atlantic Ocean.

Mr. Taft believes that, up to now, Russia has only been "consolidating" the sphere of influence awarded her by the Yalta agreement awarded her by the Yalta agreement. But the destruction of democracy in Czechoslovakia, for instance, is scarcely consolidation. Neither does the suppression of all political opposition in occupied countries fall within the usual definition of the word.

We doubt very much that Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill, the authors of the Atlantic Charter, had this turn of events in mind when they recognized Russia's predominant interest in her neighboring states.

Thus far the war of influence has been pretty one-sided. Now the U. S. seems about ready to apply the influence of money, materials and food in the cause of European freedom against the destructive influence of the Moscow-directed Communists in the ERP countries—especially Italy and France.

Mr. Taft, who at first insisted that there was no hurry about ERP, now seems to think that it might be too late. "We're wasting money if this is war," he says, "as the ERP won't have any effect for at least six months." Yet he also says that he has "no knowledge of any Russian intention for military aggression."

That is probably true so long as Russia is not thwarted in her "war of influence." But there is plenty of evidence that war is not absent from the Soviet government's thoughts.

Communist philosophy and propaganda preach the inevitable war on capitalism. Russia has millions under arms. She has added industrial Czechoslovakia to her domain. Apparently reliable eye-witnesses say that Russia has sent Yugoslavia torpedo boats, submarines, military planes, big guns and tanks, and rocket bombs whose launching sites menace Italy across the Adriatic. And there are many more indications, by word and deed, that Russia will fight for what she wants if she can't get it any other way.

RED LIAR CONVICTED

(Detroit News)

Convicted in a District of Columbia court on multiple charges of perjury, Harold R. Christoffel, former president of the UAW (CIO) union at the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co., Milwaukee plant, faces a maximum penalty of 60 years in prison.

An inquiry by the House Labor Committee while it was considering the measure which now is the Taft-Hartley Labor Act amassed evidence strongly indicating that Allis-Chalmers strikes, the most recent lasting nearly a year, were promoted by union Communists.

Summoned before the committee, Christoffel swore that he was not and had never been a Communist. But "conclusive evidence" that he "willfully and feloniously testified falsely" resulted in his trial and conviction.

To lie in furtherance of Communist interest, the practice of Communism everywhere, insults everyone who believes in decency and honesty as rules of conduct.

AGAIN "DICTIONARY"

Today's contributor, a Detroit mother, wishes to withhold her identity. She will, however, receive an autographed copy of my Handbook for sending in this Pet Speech Peeve:

"My Susie's teacher makes her say 'diction-ree' for dictionary. Is this the kind of money-business that we pay school taxes for?" (A typical letter).

I have remarked before that the British telegraphers, "diction-ree, milli-tree, secret-tree, cere-tree," etc., are looked upon by some schoolmarm as the sign of loftiest cultural attainment. I have also pointed out on more than one occasion that such pinched-in pronunciations are grossly incorrect in American usage, and that teachers should stop trying to force such linguistic fancywork on normal American school kids.

This is not an indictment of all teachers, believe me. I feel sure that the "diction-ree" advocates are very much in the minority. But, even so, they should know better, and I hope that today's article will cause them to discontinue their false teachings.

Surely we Americans make enough mistakes of our own without borrowing the slovenly mispronunciations of another country, to say nothing of palming the mis-the Raymond Clapper award and a $500 prize to Nat S. Finney of the Cowles publications for outstanding Washington correspondence in 1947.

The award was made at the annual White House correspondents' dinner for the president. Finney was named for the honor by a panel of five distinguished newspaper editors for a series of articles exposing plans to impose peacetime government censorship.

The president shook hands with Finney as the $500 check and the award certificate were handed over. But the president did not offer his congratulations. Instead, he remarked quietly, so only Finney could hear it, that if you kept monkeying around with these things long enough, you got a kick in the pants. The president made it stronger than that, but it's against the rules to quote him directly. What puzzles Finney, however, is which one of them got the kick? Was it the president because Finney's series had criticized censorship policies? Or was it Finney because the president wasn't offering congratulations?

"MOST-KICKED-AROUND" AWARD

Dr. Edward U. Condon, National Bureau of Standards director, had a gagged - up idea for a new kind of "man of the year" award. He has in jest tried to sell the idea to publisher Marshall Field, suggesting that he offer it in competition to the Pulitzer prizes. Instead of giving the award for distinguished achievement in the arts and letters, however, Condon says it should be confined to the field of government service.

And to give it a new twist, Condon says the prize should go to the public servant who gets the worst kicking around during the year. For instance, last year's award would unquestionably go to Chairman Lillenthal of the Atomic Energy Commission for the public beating and abuse he had to take from Senator McKellar.

When Dr. Condon explained his gag award idea to several newspaper men, they accused him of wanting the prize himself. Condon has been accused of consorting with Communists and Russian agents by Congressman John Rankin of Mississippi and the House Un-American Activities committee. Condon wouldn't get this prize hands down, however. He has competition this year. Consider the kicking around that Dean James M. Landis took when he was bounced out of Civil Aeronautics board chairmanship. Or how about the summary firing given Surgeon General Thomas Parran after a 12-year unblemished record as head of Public Health Service? Or take the case of Marriner S. Eccles' Federal Reserve board demotion.

REDS PUT BITE ON BENEFIT

Before the Communists took over Czechoslovakia, the Czech ladies in Washington were planning to have a benefit sale for relief in their native country. Madame Juraj Slavik, wife of the Czech ambassador, had lined up all the Czech ladies in Washington to help with the benefit. They were madly sewing away on gay peasant aprons and doing fancy embroidery work for which Czech women are famous. Then came the coup. Then came Ambassador Slavik's resignation and his dramatic denunciation of the Communists. The Slaviks moved out of the embassy. The sale was called off.

Among the women who had worked hardest getting ready for this sale was Mrs. Edward U. Condon, wife of the Bureau of Standards director. She is of Czech descent. All though the war, in Pittsburgh, Mrs. Condon had been one of the demon seamstresses for the Red Cross. For the Czech embassy relief sale, Mrs. Condon had made 28 aprons and doesn't know what to do with them now. "Why doesn't somebody accuse us of having associated with Ambassador Slavik and his wife?" Dr. Condon asks with a big grin. "Slavik is now an American hero. They're the kind of people we know best."

Hamilton Robinson, head of the State Department's Office of Controls, was being grilled by Congressman Fred Busbey of Chicago about his associations with his second cousin, Robert P. Miller III, ex-State Department employee once investigated for alleged Communist connections. "What did Miller do when he was in Moscow?" Busbey asked. Robinson said his cousin had gone to Russia to sell seeds, but the enterprise had flopped. Congressman J. Edgar Chenoweth of Colorado interposed with: "I hope he didn't go there to sell seeds for Henry Wallace."

pronunciations off on innocent children as "correct" pronunciations. No American dictionary that I have ever seen (and I have them by the shelffuls) sanctions "diction-ree, milli-tree, secret-tree," etc., for American use. Without exception dictionary, military, secretary, cemetery, ordinary, and such words, are given four distinct syllables. And all dictionaries but one or two place a secondary accent on the third syllable, thus: DIC-tion-AR-y. (See Webster's New International, Funk and Wagnall's New College Dictionary, Thorndike Century, Macmillan's, and Kenyon and Knott's.)

In short, and I want to bring this point home strongly to my readers, and to teachers especially, the "diction-ree" type of pronunciation for the -ary words is corrupt and incorrect in American speech.

All the -ary words should be given the traditional American pronunciation which is always heard in arbitrary, commissary, confectionary, contemporary, customary, dignity, honorary, imaginary, January, mercenary, sanctuary, etc. Tomorrow: How good an authority is the Oxford English Dictionary?

John Always Seems to Choose an Opportune Time

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

SUNDAY AFTERNOON—There are several ways to spend a Sunday afternoon. You can, as so many people do, take a nap. This usually follows a more than ample dinner. Or you may take a ride, as several thousand people did last Sunday afternoon. We were among those several thousand, and our trip lead from Escanaba through Wells, the Chemical plant location, Bay View, Pioneer Trail Park, and home again, with a mileage total not exceeding six or seven.

Many people go for a drive without an objective in mind. We had one—the Pioneer Trail side of the Escanaba river. Later we will tell you why we made that area our objective.

SOMETHING TO SEE—The "old bridge" over the river at Wells on the "lower road" is a fascinating structure. J. T. Sharp-entstein, Delta road commission superintendent-engineer, says that no one knows when it may collapse—or how great a load it will carry. It is posted for a 5,000 pound load limit, although loads three times that heavy have passed over it and the bridge still stands. So don't be afraid. It may be good for many years of service.

From the top of the old bridge you could see the river winding away to the bay. Much of the river is free of ice in mid-stream, and mergansers and golden eyes, only recently arrived from the southland, swam there. The open water recalled the couple of times we had dipped smelt on the river, and suggested that this year it may be possible to get more than we did—seven smelt, wet feet and a bad cold.

CENTURIES AGO—To the right below the old bridge, along the bank of one channel of the river, we marked the car and began looking for Indian arrowheads. This was one of our objectives for the afternoon. Here for many, many centuries, the Indians had an extensive village. Here they hunted and fished, using arrowheads chipped from chert, chalcedony, flint and quartzite; and harpoons of bone, and hooks of copper. The fish and game they cooked in clay pots (akeeks). They smoked Indian tobacco in pipes of stone and clay.

While we were looking for arrowheads to add to our collection, a car drove up. It was driven by Dr. William Harrison, director of the Delta-Menominee health district, who was out for a ride with his two young sons.

We talked of how the prehistoric Indian lived and what he ate, and speculated on whether wild rice—the Indians' staple cereal—ever grew at the mouth of the river. Then we searched again for arrowheads and were unsuccessful despite the rabbit's foot that young Tom carried on a chain at his belt.

UP THE RIVER—The mergansers fled the river to circle overhead and then plopped down again. Their wings made a squeaking whistle, loud in the quiet air. "They need some grease," Dr. Harrison grinned.

Then the doctor and his sons drove away. Abandoning our search we continued our drive. Just then a three-bedroom of the Charles Plant location, through Bay View on a side road and over to IIS-2-41 and then back to Pioneer Trail park opposite the No. 1 dam of the Upper Michigan

INTO THE PAST

10 Years Ago

Escanaba—Gerald Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson, 202 North 11th street, and a student of Wooster college, in Ohio, is a member of the Wooster Glee club which today embarks on a two-week tour of the midwest.

Manistique—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Grimsley are the parents of a son born March 22 at the Mary Boyd Maternity home.

Gladstone—Helmer Nelson and Andrew Larson left last night for New York to board the Gripsholm for Sweden where they will again make their home. Both men came to the United States several years ago from Vesterbottenland, Sweden.

Twenty Years Ago

Gladstone—Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Murray and children, of Milwaukee are visiting at the Charles Murray home here.

Gladstone—Miss Blanche Mathison, a student of Western Michigan College of Education in Kalamazoo, is spending the Easter vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mathison.

Manistique—Louis Meuller has left for Chicago where he will submit to a tonsillectomy at the Presbyterian hospital.

Escanaba—Miss Doreen Hilbert of Manitoba, Canada, and Glen Fallmer, of Pine Falls, Manitoba, Canada, have left to return following an extended visit with the Glen Fallmers in Flat Rock.

Escanaba—Mr. and Mrs. Matt Decker are the parents of a daughter born March 21 in St. Francis hospital.

Businessmen should make every effort to hold prices down, even if wages go up another notch.—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R) of Ohio.

Power & Light company. Here, one hundred years ago, was one of the earliest pioneer settlements in Delta county.

BIG OAKS—A few flint chips, a shred of Indian pottery—this was all that was to be found indicating the place had been occupied even before the white men came.

Here and there along the banks of the lower Escanaba are groves of large oak trees. Sometimes the oaks are so thick they have crowded out other forest trees.

We recalled that Carl Sawyer, one of Escanaba's most observant woodsmen, had commented that the Indians had eaten acorns. "Where you find an oak grove, you have found a place where the Indians once lived," Sawyer said. And we remembered reading somewhere that the Indians buried bushels of the acorns in muck along rivers, leaving them there for months to remove the tannic acid bitterness. They were then dug up, the kernels dried and pounded into meal in a stone mortar.

THE PIONEERS—White settlers had little difficulty with the Indians in this locality. The sound of the war whoop never struck terror into the hearts of local pioneers, for the Indian even a century ago was looked upon as no more than a harmless beggar of salt and whiskey.

Here the Indian first lived, then mingled briefly with the pioneers, who came to Flat Rock by boat up Green bay to the mouth of the river. Alfred Groos says that "Pioneer Trail" is the trail over which these settlers and their supplies were conveyed along the river bank from the bay. Undoubtedly the Indians had a trail there long before.

Our own trail led us home again, although we had failed to find an arrowhead to add to our collection.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—With the war scare such as it is, one all-important, obvious question is whether the United States should get the draw on Russia and drop the A-bomb first. This question has been discussed at Key West and at other military conferences, but the decision seems to have been no.

In fact, at Key West, Admiral Leahy, the president's chief of staff, even made a passionate plea that the atomic bomb not be used in such a way as to harm innocent women and children in enemy territory.

Leahy was reminded by other experts, however, that it was impossible to use the A-bomb against a small military target, also that it was impossible to know whether women and children might be near that target; also that American women and children would not be spared when it came to enemy bombing.

One thing that shocked, almost stunned Secretary of Defense Forrestal at the Key West conference was the possibility that in case of a clash Russia might capture American wives and children of U. S. troops in Germany and Korea, holding them as hostages in case of atom-bombings. Forrestal was reminded that there could be another Bataan.

However, it was decided that the United States will lean over backward to make sure no war initiative, no overt act, no premature dropping of the A-bomb takes place.

At present, the United States has a more than ample supply of A-bombs, plus the capacity to make more at assembly-line speed. Furthermore, the new A-bomb is about 1,000 times more powerful than the bomb dropped on Hiroshima.

WAVE OF REVENGE

But they will not be used against any enemy in any surprise move. To do so would be against the Christian concepts of humanity, also against the century-and-a-half tradition of the United States that we have never attacked another nation.

Furthermore, for the United States to get the jump on the enemy by dropping the A-bomb would mean such revulsion of world feeling that we would lose our present moral position in Europe, also start a wave of hatred in Russia bound to result in a return war of revenge.

The history of every war is that when people consider themselves wronged, they bide their time and build up their resources until they can come back at their conqueror.

Another important point considered by U. S. defense chiefs is the fact that the Russians have now obtained all the secrets of German submarines, will undoubtedly use them to release rockets at major U. S. cities.

Toward the close of the war the German sub could breathe underwater and had a rubber skin which made radar detection difficult. They could also travel at the amazing speed of 18 knots submerged. These priceless secrets all fell into Russian hands.

As a result, Russian subs today could come close to American cities with V-2 rockets aboard, to be launched against U. S. cities from submarine decks.

These gruesome prospects are some of the things U. S. strategists necessarily must consider. They feel there is no use shutting our eyes to them, in fact, that if we prepare to meet them, the prospects of war with Russia will be lessened.

Note—Though President Truman focused attention on the need of manpower, one overlooked fact is Army equipment. Much of it is out-of-date. Of the $11 billion for defense in 1948, the Army got only $3 billion, of which $2 billion paid the cost of occupying Japan, Germany and Korea. Result: Not a single new piece of equipment has been bought since V-J day.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Discouraged, a lot of good Democratic congressional candidates are pulling out of the November race. Ex-Senator Jim Mead was planning to run for Congress from Buffalo; Frank Emma was planning to run from Utica, N. Y.; George Kelly from Rochester. Believing Truman's chances are almost nil, they've now changed their minds. . . Stassen's undercover boys have contacted Ives for vice president on Stassen's ticket. So far no result. . . General MacArthur's backers are determined to put him across in Wisconsin—or else. There'll be a big billboard campaign throughout the entire state. If they don't win in Wisconsin—his home-state—they figure MacArthur's chances in other primaries are nil. . . Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh, high Democratic mogul, urged President Truman last week to stage an all-out fight against Henry Wallace or face defeat. . . The Texas delegation to Congress is split—seven congressmen for Truman and fourteen against him. . . Tennessee's Senator McKellar has been quizzing colleagues as to who can run against Truman for the Democratic nomination. McKellar wants a southern-western ticket.

UNDER THE DOME

Congressmen have their housing problems too—sometimes of their own making. When they inquired about renting apartments in a new building within the shadow of the capitol, they found that a 2-bedroom apartment rented for $500 a month. Reason: When Congress passed the rent-control law last year it exempted new apartments from rent control. . . The brother of ex-Secretary of War Pat Hurley recently turned up as a California ranch-hand. He had been missing for 37 years. Maybe the two brothers couldn't locate each other because the ex-secretary of war changed his name from O'Hurley to Hurley. It wasn't good politics to be Irish in Oklahoma.

Attention Congressman John Taber: What's become of that $5 million deficiency appropriation for the state department's "Voice of America"?

Roving Reporter

By Hal Boyle

New York, (AP)—Whatever happened to "bazooka mouth," the U. S. Army's only native-born and calypso singer?

The "mouth" is Maxie Zera, a stocky former New York university football star with a voice like a bull caught on a barbed wire fence.

During the war Maxie, who worked up from enlisted man to captain, sang the glory of the American First Infantry division. He did it in the rhythms of Trinidad calypso singers, improving the rhymes as he went along.

Nervous Germans, hearing these strange sounds shuddering through the night, sometimes gave up in terror. They had the idea a new American secret weapon was about to be turned on them.

In those days "bazooka mouth," who was born in the Bronx, planned when the war was over to open a big bar here and name it after the division's insignia—"The Red One." He was going to provide the entertainment himself.

Sells Chewing Gum

I ran into Maxie the other day and asked him about the saloon. "It took too much capital to start one," Maxie said, "I went into the chewing gum business instead."

Zera is general manager now of the Sterling Mint Co., which markets gum through the south.

"The gum industry has just got some good news," Maxie confided. "We've finally developed a gum that won't stick to false teeth."

"That's always been one of the big problems. You know how many people in this country wear dentures? Millions! Now they can chew gum just like everybody else. It's a big step forward for us."

One of the penalties of being in the gum business is that your friends are always suggesting brilliant new ways to peddle gum. "One wants me to put out gum with vitamins in it and call it vita-chew," said Maxie. "Others think you should have cherry, strawberry or pineapple gum."

"They don't realize it is difficult to develop a flavor that will stay in gum for ten minutes. You have to do that. We've found out most people chew a piece of gum that long. All except here. The pace here is so fast that stenographers average twenty minutes. They forget to refuel."

Gum For Sleepy Drivers

Maxie has turned down a suggestion that he manufacture a gum containing caffeine to keep awake drivers who have a habit of falling asleep at the wheel.

"We could call it 'Safe-Drive' gum," he mused, "but I don't know how big the market would be. Right now I'm concentrating on a coffee gum."

"Why should you waste time drinking hot coffee in the morning? My idea it to 'chew your cup of coffee.' The trouble is so far I haven't been able to develop a coffee flavor that will last."

Maxie still is ambitious to return to the music world. He would like to get a radio network job singing news announcements in calypso.

"Even financial and market page news," he said, "that would soothe the bulls and bears. The only danger is that I have a tendency to editorialize. Sometimes you have to editorialize to get the right rhyme."

"But I can't take a chance now. I'm stuck with the gum business. The pay is more regular."

Maxie married soon after leaving the service. He hopes someday "if people will just stop this crazy talk of another war"—that he will have a son to carry on his name.

"If I don't," he grinned, "a long line of Zeras is going to come to an end."

COWMEN ARE IN THE BUCKS

Cattle Business Will Be Good For Long Period

BY ROBERT C. RUARK
El Paso, Tex.—One of the unwritten laws in the west is that you never ask a man how many cattle he runs. It used to be bad manners, like asking an easterner how much money he had in the bank.

Ruark

This taboo has been even more strongly enforced in later years, since the advent of high taxes, and the number of a man's herd has become a secret between him and the tax collector. The cowman has tax trouble, too, but even with tax trouble he never had it so good, or had prospects so fine.

I've been cowering on the fringes of two cattle men's conventions—one in Albuquerque and one here—and if anybody has weathered the inflationary storm, it's the cow grower.

I have never seen so many big Cadillacs and Lincolns and Buicks. Money flies around like the old black marketeers used to throw it in Miami, during the dear, dead days of the $1500 necktie.

Carry Big Bankrolls
Ranchers who were teetering on bankruptcy a few years back are out from under free and clear, with a bankroll and an antelope couldn't hurdle. They still have two bugaboos—drouth and disease—but their market worries have been laid to rest for many a moon, and the high cost of hamburger doesn't threaten to worsen for a decade.

If another war comes, their meat will command the price of pearls. If another war doesn't, exports under the European aid plans, plus the maintenance of a larger defense force at home, still insures them an eager market. The cut off of the flow of cattle from Mexico, because of foot-and-mouth disease, has placed still more of a premium on American meat.

The wealthy cowman on fiesta is a fairly fearsome object, combining some of the salient characteristics of the convening Legionnaire and the cavorting undertaker—a professional man who has always been gay at convention-time, since he too is assured of a permanent, static market.

The hotels ring with the startled cries of the pinched elevator girls; the lobbies are a sea of white stockings and hand-carved boots. The barroom juke-boxes bleat like mired calves; the waitresses and barkeepers run double shifts and fall asleep, dead beat, with their shoes on. The poker games ride high and handsome and you can hear the galloping dice thudding against the hotel walls.

Wear Expensive Clothes
I tried to figure out what it costs the cowboy-come-to-town to dress the part, and I think I can rig out a chorus girl for considerably less. A pair of good boots, made to order and tastefully carved, will go anywhere from $60 to a couple of hundred bucks; a good white hat is worth about $40; the gabardine shirt, undecorated, comes to about $30, and the dress-up suit is as costly as a playboy's suit in New York. A dressgoods man I met in Albuquerque haunted the convention there, selling clothes to the cowmen's wives for prices that would give a small shock to Hattie Carnegie. Some of the wives wear diamonds as big as walnuts.

There was a day when a trip to Chicago was a highlight affair for the western rancher; the airplane has made him a commuter to New York and the gay spots of Miami, Cuba and Mexico. I met few people who hadn't seen more Broadway shows than I have. While a great many cowmen fly their own planes today, the little bars are fairly well speckled with young men wearing semi-eastern clothes, and they turn out to be ex-air forcers who are making their living as private pilots.

Decadence Setting In
They literally throw the horse in the pickup truck today, and ride the range in a Ford V-8. They have learned to buzz the cattle in order to crowd them off the land—strip, and a type of rustling has sprung up whereby the rustler is apt to step out of a Stinson rope and dress out a stray calf, toss the carcass into the plane and take off again.

The west may be wild and woolly still, in spots, but civilization is a crowdin, in fast. If Roy Rogers and Gene Autry don't take restful courses pretty soon, one of these days you're apt to find Clifton Webb playing lead roles in the horse operas. I won't say the cowmen have become effete, but I saw more than one take off his sombrero before he sat down to eat, and it looks to me like decadence may be setting in.

DEER FEEDING NOT JUSTIFIED

Wisconsin's Program Is Discussed By Game Men Of Michigan

"The returns do not justify the expense," said I. H. Bartlett, deer investigator of the Michigan department of conservation game division, of the Wisconsin program to feed deer in an effort to reduce starvation during the winter months.

Bartlett and L. A. Davenport, game division biologist, were in Escanaba today enroute to Lansing after inspecting 600 deer in Northern Wisconsin during the past week. They accompanied a Wisconsin deer committee appointed by the Wisconsin Conservation Congress to make a study of deer yarding conditions in that state. Members of the Wisconsin conservation department also accompanied the committee.

The Wisconsin legislature about 1941 upped the cost of hunting licenses 50 cents to create a fund to feed deer and to purchase deer yards. Wisconsin has been providing artificial feed for its deer herds since 1934, however.

This last winter in Wisconsin about $85,000 was spent to purchase hay and a concentrate of ground alfalfa, bone meal, soy bean meal and other nutrients for deer feeding.

"Undoubtedly a few deer were saved," Bartlett said. "But the condition was not improved, for the deer concentrated into the feeding areas and cleaned out all of the natural browse. The feeding is supposed to save the fawns, but the larger deer drove the fawns away from the feed. In my opinion the returns do not justify the expense."

Wisconsin game men are not satisfied with the feeding program, and question its advisability. It was started by popular demand and legislative action, however, and it cannot be abandoned until the Wisconsin legislature acts.

The purchase of additional deer yards is a step in the right direction, Bartlett added. In these yards the big timber can be cut and the tops provide feed for the deer in winter. Cutting also opens up the ground to new growth the deer can reach—except that where the deer are concentrated they kill the young growth by over-browsing.

No Feeding Here

Michigan abandoned all types of artificial feeding about 1927, and the only extensive feeding was in the Hubert swamp in the Upper Peninsula.

At the present time, however, there is about 1,000 square miles in Michigan that are over-browsed because of the high concentration of deer. About one-half of this area is in the Upper Peninsula. The loss through starvation is not as high in the U. P. as downstate, Bartlett said. And in the Upper Peninsula the deer herds are showing some increase, although there is none or very little below the Straits.

Better wintering conditions will increase the herds, and there is the possibility that sportsmen will consider the possibility of herd control by accepting an antlerless deer season—the killing of one deer, either buck or doe. Such a proposal is gaining consideration in Wisconsin, Bartlett said.

One-Deer Season?

There is a big fawn crop each year, Bartlett pointed out. Estimates are that about one-half of the number of this crop is killed.

abandoned homes.

Others took stock of the damage left by receding muddy waters.

Several of the state's rivers—the Grand, Flint, Saginaw, Battle Creek, Kalamazoo and Red Cedar—were below the danger point.

During weekend floods some spilled their water over the surrounding countryside, causing property damage running into thousands of dollars.

The business district of Grand Rapids escaped flooding when the Grand River held at its crest of 19 feet, a scant 12 inches below the river wall. The stream was expected to start receding today. Sandbags had been piled atop the wall to add further protection.

Residents of suburban Comstock Park, Lowell, North Park and Grandville, evacuated when the river rose to a point five inches above last year's flood level, prepared to return home.

Highways near the Grand Rapids city limits still were flooded, and several inches of water on US-31 in that area slowed traffic over the Plainfield bridge.

The Saginaw River began receding late Monday after reaching a crest of 22.3 feet, a tenth of a foot below the highest mark in 19 years. A gradual fall in the levels of four tributaries, the Cass, Flint, Shiawassee, and Tittabawassee, allowed the Saginaw to begin its return to normal.

U. S. Defense Measures Discussed Pro And Con At Community Meeting

"I believe it advisable to be prepared for something that may never happen rather than have the unexpected happen and not be prepared."

This statement, voiced by Elmer Swanson, chairman of the internal security sub-committee of the Escanaba American Legion national defense committee, typifies the thought and discussion such thought provoked at an unexpectedly enthusiastic meeting at the Elks club last night.

The occasion was a meeting of the Legion committee with representatives of all civic, service, fraternal and labor organizations in Escanaba for the purpose of acquainting them with the recognized need for national defense measures. Approximately 75 persons attended.

Awakened Citizenry

That Escanaba has an awakened citizenry vitally interested in hearing both sides of such points at issue as the reenactment of selective service and universal military training and adopting whatever measures are necessary to preserve the American way of life was plainly evident last night.

It was the consensus that much had been accomplished in the round table discussion that followed brief addresses by chairman Tom Beaton, jr., sub-committee chairman I. C. Peterson, UMT; Marvin L. Coon, Naval Affairs; James G. Ward, jr., military affairs; Swanson, internal security, and by the keynote speaker of the evening, Norman LaFave, of Iron Mountain.

So much interest was manifest in the growing threat of Communism to world peace, in view of the April 18 elections in Italy, that it was the unanimous decision of the group to hold a similar meeting and round-table discussion after the election.

The date was tentatively set for Monday, April 26, at a place to be announced later. Because of the interest shown last night and the fact that other delegates from the various organizations will be invited, it was generally agreed a larger meeting place must be procured.

Army Day Plans

The William W. Oliver auditorium at the Escanaba junior high school was suggested.

The junior high school auditorium will be the scene of an open public meeting at 8 p. m. on Army Day, Tuesday, April 6, sponsored by the American Legion national defense committee, when the Rev. T. Parnell Dunleavy, of Sault Ste. Marie, will speak on "National Security" and two new sound military motion picture films will be shown.

Plans for this meeting were outlined last night. Army day plans call for a community wide observance of the day, with several downtown exhibits during the day, and the armory at the State fairgrounds, home of Delta county's National Guard unit, will be open for inspection. National Guard members also will attend the evening meeting in uniform in a body, and Guard vehicles and heavy equipment will be on display in front of the junior high before the meeting.

It was explained by Peterson and LaFave that universal military training is not conscription in the popular sense.

Trainee Not In Army

"A UMT trainee would not become a member of the armed forces," it was stated. "He would have six months of training, during which even his uniform and insignia would be different from that of the Army, and at the end of that time, he would have the choice of 10 options of completing his training.

The Communists claim the Western Powers' Trieste proposal is a political trick to influence voters to support government parties in the April 18 election.

Sforza in turn has accused Yugoslavia of violating the peace treaty in trying illegally to annex the portion of Trieste free territory now occupied by Yugoslav troops under the treaty.

Italian Communists contend that negotiations should be conducted on a bilateral plane between Italy and Yugoslavia, rather than through the initiative of the Western Powers.

LORD MILNE DEAD

London, March 23 (AP)—Field Marshal Lord Milne, 81, who introduced mechanization into the British army, died today at his suburban Putney home. Lord Milne, who was chief of the Imperial general staff from 1926 to 1933, had been ill since last January.

The administration moved up this major proposal as the legislature dallied into its second week. The Senate was in session only five minutes last night and the House did business for 15 minutes. Both chambers agreed to adjourn Thursday night until next Tuesday night because of the Good Friday-Easter weekend.

The Senate received another of the constitutional amendments proposed by Sigler for a place on the November ballot. It would require a vote of only a majority of the voters on the question to call a constitutional convention. The law now requires a majority of those voting at the election.

Senator Arthur H. Wood (R-Detroit) prepared a bill to permit reduction of aid to dependent children payments (mothers' pensions) to a parent who could be gainfully employed if another member of the family was available to care for the children involved.

With no debate, the House advanced three bills for a vote today (2 p. m.).

One would permit the legislature to raise the present $6,000 salary of the state supreme court clerk. The other two would pay the balance of the salaries of the late Reps. Edson V. Root of Bangor and Frank J. Calvert of Highland Park to their widows.

Thirty Democrats joined 48 Republicans in voting for the Senate bill. The 11 opposition votes were cast by Democrats.

Senator Connally of Texas, ranking minority member of the Finance Committee which wrote the measure, led the fight against passage.

Tito's Army Is Readied For 'Liberation' Of Italy

BY BOGDAN RADITSA
Ex-Yugoslav Press Information Chief

Written for NEA Service, Inc. Copyright, 1948, by NEA Service, Inc. Marshal Tito has an army of 300,000 men ready to back up the Soviet rocket bomb bases on Yugoslavia's western borders and to make use of the Balkan arsenal being built in Yugoslavia's busy war plants.

As the crucial April 18 elections in Italy approach, these troops are being readied for a "liberation" mission, according to the same reliable sources which have managed to give me a steady flow of military facts from inside Yugoslavia.

These sources — trustworthy friends who one-by-one are slipping out of Tito's domain as I did in 1946—add weight to the threat publicly voiced last week by Italian pro-Communist Pietro Nenni that the Po Valley may become a battlefield unless the Reds win the vote next month.

The Tito army commands the eastern flank of the Po Valley. And the Communist orders for the army, my sources report, are to "free" Northern Italy from the non-Communists if such a move is necessary.

Coached by Russian officers and commissars, Yugoslavia's forces are divided into six armies, and an armored army is being formed. There are 31 infantry divisions. The facts which filter out of Yugoslavia to me do not contain figures on the air force, but they identify an entire aviation division—the Sixth—as having been formed and trained in Russia.

In the forces facing northern Italy is the Proletarian Division, commanded by Col. Gen. Gajo Vojvodic. It includes the 1st Serbian Proletarian Brigade, the 3rd Krajiska Proletarian Brigade, the 13th Croatian Proletarian Brigade, and an artillery brigade.

In the Trieste Army is the 7th Banijakoffensive Division—mostly Serbian mountain troops rated as Tito's most savage—under Col. Gen. Gruber; the 26th Dalmatian Offensive Division; the 27th Slavonian Shock Division; the 23rd Krajiska Shock Division, and the First Tank Division.

Besides the 300,000 men in the army, Tito has more than 100,000 others under arms—the Home Guard, all staunch Communists; the elite KNOJ, counterpart of the Nazi S. S. troops, and the UDB, or secret police.

In elaborate maneuvers last October, along the Danube north of Sombor, Yugoslav troops engaged in an operation called "forced transit of the Danube." Russian airplanes, plus two regiments of the Soviet motorized army sent down from Hungary and a Soviet heavy artillery regiment (conveniently located at Sombor) also took part in the maneuvers.

The Russian count on Tito's army as an effective force if they are needed to help the Italian Communists "free" Northern Italy. With the average Yugoslav soldier, no matter what his inhibited feelings about the Russians, it would be a popular mission because of an anti-Italian spirit. And the average Yugoslav soldier—the new youth mobilized after World War II—would welcome a chance to fatten up in the Po Valley after the meager rations enforced upon them by the Communists.

But there is another and more critical mission the Russians have in mind for the Yugoslav troops.

The role is an expendable first-line of defense if Communism meets a stone wall in Italy and democracy starts pushing back against Yugoslavia from the west, with force.

By expendable, I mean that the Russians fully expect the Yugoslav army would be wiped out in any such move from the west. The facts I have pieced together from my friends show that the equipment being turned out by the new Yugoslav arsenal is not going to Tito's soldiers, but is being held in reserve.

The Yugoslav forces might be able to hold for as long as 24 days. That is as long as Russia would need them as a buffer. By then the Reds would have their own forces in position.

I do not need the letters from my friends to know the full scope of what the Russians have in mind.

As early as the Spring of 1945, when I was still in Belgrade, I listened to Soviet officers in responsible positions openly brag how they could have the whole of Europe in four or five weeks' time.

"After that," they said bluntly, "America will be close." That was while America was talking friendship with the Russians as they closed in on Germany together.

"We will move across Northern Italy and France," said the Soviet officers in Belgrade. "And then we will strike against Spain. A popular war against France—and how can the west defend him—will bring us to the Atlantic."

The atom bombs that burst over Japan silenced such base-faced bravado, but only for a matter of weeks.

Before I fled in 1946, they were talking of world upheaval again. And the letters that reach me now tell that the Communists have convinced the Yugoslav people of the inevitability of war.

In their public speeches, the Communists speak of such war as "defense of liberation." But in cafes and in government offices, the war they talk about is a real one.

And the military facts from inside Tito's domain look as if Yugoslavia will be the spring-board.

Wants Vandenberg
To Lead Party

The following resolution was unanimously adopted at the Schoolcraft County Republican Convention held at Manistique on March 19, 1948.

"Republicans of Schoolcraft County direct the attention of all good citizens of the state to the distinguished and courageous leadership of Kim Sigler as governor of Michigan, particularly in regenerating our faith in clean and effective government according to the best American tradition; and commend the efficient and devoted support given to the administration programs by all elected state officials and legislators representing the Republican party.

"We applaud the Republican representatives and senators of Michigan in the 80th Congress. They have to a greater degree than ever before, given guidance and direction to the legislative branch of our government. Their devoted service in the national interest and outstanding leadership in congressional matters must be retained for the years to come.

"Especially do we acclaim the conspicuous statesmanship of Arthur H. Vandenberg, who, through his deep understanding, forthright expressions and courageous action has gained the admiration and respect of the American people, regardless of color, creed or political faith. We urge Republicans over the entire nation to call him to duty as leader of our party, to the end that he may this year be chosen to guide as president the glorious destiny of the United States."

Robins are back.

Mrs. Arthur Graham, who lives on Highway M-94, reports that she saw two of these red breasted harbingers of spring on Sunday afternoon, but she hesitated about reporting the fact because she thought that she might have made a mistake, but Monday morning the two birds were back again and there was no mistaking their cheery call.

Robins, however, are not the only spring birds she has seen in the last few days. Crows have been seen about the place for nearly two weeks and shortly before the arrival of the robins, Mrs. Graham noted the presence of killdeer and blackbirds.

WIDELY KNOWN
GUIDE PASSESFuneral Services To Be Held Wednesday
For C. Regenbogen

Conrade Regenbogen, 76, better known to many as Con Rainbow, widely known as a guide and as a breeder of dogs, died Saturday afternoon at the Cloverland Lodge, where he had been taken the Thursday previous. He had been ill for the past several months.

Although a man of wide acquaintance, little is known concerning his life. He had been a cook in his native Germany and had worked in that capacity on occasions here, but never as a steady vocation. Through the years he was much in demand as a hunting and fishing guide. He also made a specialty of raising springer spaniel dogs and, according to record, has sold them all over the country.

He was born on March 12, 1872 at Schuttern, Germany and emigrated to this country in 1901. He has lived at his present home since 1911. There are no known relatives surviving.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at the Morton funeral home, with the Rev. Paul Sobel officiating. Burial will be in Fairview cemetery.

At GYC

A meeting for the purpose of discussing the possibility of reactivating the Coast Guard flotilla is to be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the Gladstone Yacht club.

Persons active in the temporary reserve during wartime declare there is a definite need for harbor patrol which could be carried out by the flotilla.

Any boat owner, radioman or aircraft owner or operator, former members of the flotilla and temporary reserve and other interested persons may attend the gathering.

The Coast Guard flotilla was organized here in 1939 and in 1942 or 1943 the Temporary Reserve was formed from it. The Reserve functioned until 1945 when it was disbanded. D. A. Mathison was ranking officer at the time of the disbandment.

CITY SOFTBALL MEET TONIGHT

Team Rosters, Player Contracts To Be Given Out

Managers of city softball teams will receive team rosters and player contracts and discuss all plans for the coming season at a meeting of the Escanaba Softball association in the city hall council chambers at 7:30 this evening.

Umpires also are requested to attend to receive their rule books and instructions. Players, prospective players and other interested persons are invited to the session.

"We have many things to take up, but we intend to take care of each matter in turn and to end the meeting by 9 this evening," Reno Beck, association president, said.

"Officers are elected to make the association run smoothly and to enforce rules that the association decides upon. It is not primarily their duty to make final decisions on all matters."

Among items to be discussed tonight are a home run fence, modern restrooms for Memorial field, player passes for league games, forming of leagues and repairing of grounds at Memorial.

Elmer Lach Cops Ice Scoring Title

Montreal, March 23 (P)—Elmer Lach, brilliant play maker of the Montreal Canadiens, is officially recognized today as the National Hockey League's 1947-48 individual scoring champion.

Lach, according to final official averages released today, wound up the season with 30 goals and 31 assists for 61 points with Buddy O'Connor of the New York Rangers second with 60 points.

O'Connor led the parade most of the way with Lach closing in and winning the crown over the weekend by collecting five points in two games while O'Connor went scoreless.

For Lach, a left-handed shot, it is his second scoring crown. The flashy center previously won it in 1944-45 when he picked up 80 points.

By winning the point derby, Lach receives $1,000 from the league. O'Connor gets $500 from the league and the Ranger management said yesterday it would give their popular center another $500.

Ted Lindsay, sharp-shooting left wing of the Detroit Red Wings, scored the most goals, 33, and Doug Bentley of Chicago collected the most assists, 37.

Walter "Turk" Broda, pudgy 33-year-old netminder of the pennant winning Toronto Maple Leafs, won the Vezina trophy, highest goal-tending award.

The top ten scorers:

Player and Team	G	A	P
Elmer Lach, Montreal	30	31	61
Buddy O'Connor, N. Y.	24	36	60
Doug Bentley, Chicago	20	37	57
Gaye Stewart, Tor.-Chi.	27	29	56
Bob Poole, Tor.-Chi.	25	29	54
Max Bentley, Chi.-Tor.	26	28	54

MSC Nine Beaten In Tour Opener

Columbia, S. C., Mar. 23—Michigan State College baseball team opened its Dixie tour yesterday by dropping a 4 to 3 decision to the University of South Carolina.

It was the gamecocks' first victory since the series with MSC began in 1935 and the Spartans hoped to gain revenge in the second game of the current series today.

Neil Ricketts, Lansing sophomore, was nominated to hurl the finale.

Jock Leslie Takes Comeback Decision

Flint, Mich., March 23 (P)—Flint featherweight Jock Leslie today added a unanimous 10-round decision over Dino Bieta of Canton, O., to his ring comeback claim.

Leslie, who was knocked out by Champion Willie Pep in his unsuccessful bid for the featherweight crown last summer, was master all the way in last night's feature match.

He weighed 130 3/4 to 129 for Bieta.

COTTON LEONARD Goes To Menominee

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

New York, March 23 (P)—Pepery little Mike Peppe, Ohio State swimming coach, predicts that his team will win the National Collegiate A. A. team title this weekend by at least 10 points, if the Bucks' Bill Smith is ready and right. "That seems to be a fairly safe prediction, since rival coaches are virtually conceding Ohio State a clean sweep in the fancy diving events. But it still is a radical departure from the tearful tradition of coaching."

Amateur Chuck Koesie and Pro Skip Alexander have been nominated by a vote of ex-champions in their fields as the most capable players not previously invited to play in the Augusta Masters golf tournament. One American Association ball club reports it has improved quarters for umpires by purchasing new chairs—adding pointedly, "rockers."

First Class, Please

It happened during a spring football scrimmage at the University of Florida. A player failed to get up after a play and the quarterback called across the field, "Hey, coach, send us a half-back." The coach, unable to identify the casualty as a right or left half, asked, "What kind?" In unison three voices came out of the huddle: "A good one."

One-Minute Sports Page

Herman Hickman, new Yale grid coach, will be honored at a luncheon today by the West Point athletic board and coaches.

They'll give him a silver plate inscribed: "To Herman—in appreciation for associations as line coach, friend, bon vivant and raconteur." . . . Publicist Brownie Leach points out that one or two new records may be set or four old ones equalled in the 1948 Kentucky Derby. . . . From this distance it looks like only one.

If Citation wins, as expected, he'll be the first Belmont futurity winner ever to capture the Kentucky classic. . . . Jack Demers, his former trainer, Gus Wilson, plan to import Jo Welein, 25-year-old Vienna-born heavy-weight, sometime this spring. . . . A move is underway to slay the winner of Thursday's East-West All Star basketball game into the Olympic tryouts in place of St. Louis.

Northern Caper Wins Case Letter At Alma College

Alma Mich., March 23 (P)—Nine basketball players were named today by director of athletics Steve Sato to receive varsity letters for the 1947-48 season.

They were Carl, Mike Rude, Thomas, Russ Hecker and Roy Clark. Pontiac Coach and Bill Sexton East Jordan; Joe Thibideau, Newberry; Rex Roseman, Grand Rapids; Mike Tobin, Alma; and Don Carey, Charlevoix. Manager Bob Beatty, Charlotte, also will receive a letter.

WHITE SOX HOPEFUL

Oakland, Calif. March 23 (P)—Leslie O'Connor, vice president and general manager of the Chicago White Sox, is not perturbed by the club's dismal showing in spring exhibition games. "We're lucky to get all that bad baseball out of our system before the games start to count," he says. "We still have a lot of time to get in stride for the season opener."

C. R. "Cotton" Leonard, professional and manager of the Escanaba Golf and Country club for the past 11 years, has accepted a similar position at the Riverside Country club in Menominee, Mich. effective April 1, it was announced here this morning.

The board of directors of the Escanaba club accepted Leonard's resignation "with regret" at a special meeting last night. His successor has not been named.

Cotton, one of six brothers in the golfing profession, all of them active today in Midwestern clubs, started his golfing career at the famous resort at French Lick Springs, Ind.—as did all the brothers.

After a short period there, he served as professional at Devou Fields Country club in Covington, Ky., and from there went to MacKinac Island, where he was professional at the Grand Hotel course for two summers.

Successful Instructor

Then followed two years at the Oconomowoc, Wis., Country club, from whence he came to Escanaba 11 years ago as professional and manager.

"Cotton" is well-liked by the Escanaba membership, and he has had considerable success as an instructor here. He has helped to develop such outstanding local stars of the game as Harry "Cooney" Hogan and Don Feller, both two-time Upper Peninsula Golf association champions, Elmer Swanson, club champion and U. P. runnerup, and many others.

Through practically the entire history of the U. P. Golf association, Escanaba golfers have always been considered among the best, and many peninsula championships have been won by local participants, among them Clark Glavin and Dr. Don Boyce, as well as Hogan and Feller.

Both Hogan and Feller started playing golf as caddies under "Cotton" Leonard.

In addition to serving as professional and instructor, Leonard has actively managed the club each season and has assisted in many ways that have been beneficial to the membership.

Wish Him Success

"We accept with regret Cotton Leonard's resignation," E. G. Bennett, president of the Escanaba Golf club, said this morning. "His work here has always been entirely satisfactory, and speaking for the membership at large and the board, we certainly wish him every success in his new position at Menominee."

Leonard, who picked up the lifelong nickname of "Cotton" as a cotton-topped youngster at French Lick Springs, Ind., is 38 years old, married and the father of six children. Mrs. Leonard also has been actively interested and helpful in Escanaba Golf club functions during the couple's 11 years here.

Leonard said today that the family will continue to reside in Escanaba until the present school term is completed and until their home-to-be in Menominee is remodeled.

Cotton's younger brother, Rud, is golf professional at the Marquette, Mich., Golf and Country club, where he has served the last three years. Red Leonard, an older brother, has been at Milwaukee, Wis., Golf club for many years and H. O. Leonard is professional at the Bedford, Ind., Country club. Two other brothers, Howard and Everett, are serving as golf professionals at Appleton, Wis.

Kentucky Favored To Win NCAA Cup

New York, March 23 (P)—Kentucky's mighty Wildcats were firmly favored to brush past Baylor and win the NCAA Basketball Championship in Madison Square Garden tonight.

It's a familiar role for both teams. Kentucky was the solid choice to capture the Eastern eliminations and the smooth 'cats did so handily. Baylor, on the other hand, was rated an underdog in both of its Western play-offs but the battling Bears surprised the opposition in each case.

OFF TO GOOD START

Bradenton, Fla., March 23 (P)—Ernie White and Johnny Beazley, who helped pitch the St. Louis Cardinals to the World Championship in 1942, are off to a good start in their comeback bids. Now toiling for the Boston Braves, the two allowed only one hit in six innings yesterday as the Braves nosed out the Detroit Tigers 2-1.

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS SPORTS

"It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD

Sunday was "Dufour Day" at Hermansville. . . Tom walked off with most of the individual honors in Class A in the Gold Medal basketball tournament. . . Bob did likewise in Class B. . . Each of them played on all-winning teams. . . Tom won the outstanding player award and was judged the most sportsmanlike as the Hardware's capped the "A" championship. . . And Bob was named the outstanding player and highest scorer in pacing Mike's Bar of Escanaba to the "B" championship. . . To top it off, brother Bill Dufour played a lot of forward with Mike's en route to the title.

So it was an all-Escanaba day at Hermansville with the Dufours crowding a pinnacle. . . They came back with a bushel of trophies and awards. . . Attention was drawn to Tom Dufour's work in that rugged first game the Hardware's had with Channing. . . It was their toughest of the meet. . . Dufour hit 16 goals and played a bangup defensive game as Escanaba tipped Channing, 61-54. . . He followed through with a sound floor game and tight defensive work that made him a popular choice for the "most valuable" award.

Herb Levin, sports editor of the Soo Evening News, called up to get the results of the Hermansville Gold Medal. . . When we told him two Escanaba teams walked off with top honors, he remarked: "Say, you've got some pretty hot basketball talent down there. What happened—did they lead up for the tournament?" . . . "No, just their regular lineups," he replied. "That's the way they play here." . . Two teams who did "lead up" were Marquette KC and Iron River. . . George Shomin and Jack Finn, both Escanaba products, played with the Hardware's, but they are on the Hardware roster and got in action as soon as they returned from Michigan State for the Easter holidays.

Hermansville came as close to having a 100 per cent successful season as any town in the U. P. . . The high school Redskins won the Michigan Class E championship. . . The Silver Foxes went to the finals of the Gold Medal, as did Hiawatha Inn in Class B. . . Had the Silver Foxes and Hiawatha Inn come through for Gold Medal championships, the Hermansville populace probably would have erected bronze statues of Jack Kleimola, Glenn Fleetwood and Frank Rodman in the public square. That's just a guess, however.

It's amazing the basketball talent the little town of Mass has produced. . . Forty-seven consecutive triumphs, most of them with stratospheric scores, and the U. P. and Michigan championships as a climax of the 1948 season. . . John Wilson, coach of the team who doubles in brass as superintendent of the school, is exceedingly modest about the whole thing, we are informed. . . He knows he is no Phog Allen or Hank Iba. . . His preparation for a teaching career did not even include basketball. . . But here he is with a world-beater. . . The talent is just there, he says. . . Look at 'em! . . . And our informant looked and saw such able performers as James Antilla, Ray Luttinen, who shoots and pivots with equal ease on either side with either hand, Ernest Johnson, et cetera.

Note to NWM fans: The Sealucci Truckers of Iron River have relinquished their NWM franchise to the Iron River City Cleaners. . . The Truckers, incidentally are out of the NWM playoffs. . . In the playoff to break the tie for fourth place, Negaunee Beau Chateaus beat Iron River, 43-40.

Intermediate boys—Dick Lough vs. Joe Sullivan, finals; Art Erickson vs. Bill Elliott, third place. Junior boys—Duane Brown vs. Jerome Bisson, finals; Jim Heiden vs. Roger Harchner, third place. Junior girls—Marilyn Alsten vs. Donna Blixt, finals; Betty Lundmen vs. Carol Camp, third place. Men's doubles—Bob Dufour-Bill Harvey vs. Jack Finn-Jack Schils, finals.

Because of the large entry of boys, a special boys' doubles division will be run off tonight for boys 14 and 15 years of age. Trophies will be awarded to the men's, intermediate boys and junior boys' singles winners. First, second and third awards will be given, but no trophies will be given for girls' events because of the small entries.

No Louises Found In Golden Gloves

New York, March 23 (P)—The Golden Gloves, which spawned such ring greats as Barney Ross and Joe Louis, still is rich in talent but gives no immediate promise of producing another greatly-needed "heavyweight hope."

Some of the best of the nation's amateurs demonstrated their punching wares before 18,359 patrons last night in Madison Square Garden as New York and Chicago hand-picked teams battled to an 8-8 draw.

Wings Must Shake Slump To Cut Ice In NHL Playoffs

Detroit, March 23 (P)—Hopes of the Detroit Red Wings in the Stanley Cup playoffs depend on how well they shake out of a late-season slump when they open the semifinals series against the New York Rangers tomorrow night.

The Wings did an abrupt about-face after leading the National Hockey league much of the season, winning only one and tying three of their last eight games and slid back into second place.

The slump was caused by a variety of reasons — pressure on the rookies when they saw the championship so near, staleness of several veterans, goalie Harry Lumley's Vezina trophy jitters and a costly injury to defenseman Bill Quackenbush.

Seeking corrections, Coach Tommy Ivan, who piloted the wings to the runner-up spot in his first NHL season, has called up an array of reserves from the minors. Injection of new players may be enough to snap the regulars back into form.

No change is planned for the Abel line of Capt. Sid Abel — Ted Lindsay — Gordon Howe, which is the top line in the loop. This combination scored 63 goals this season, Lindsay making 33 to head NHL goal scorers, Howe 16 and Abel 14. Lindsay also led the team with 52 points.

The big problem is Lumley, who faded in the stretch in the goalie duel with Toronto's Walter (Turk) Broda for the Vezina trophy. The team relies heavily on Lumley regaining the form which brought him seven shutouts, tops among the league's net-tenders.

Tigers Bow Again To Braves, 2 to 1

Bradenton, Fla., March 23 (P)—The Detroit Tigers' hopes of salvaging a lone victory from their current four-game series with the Boston Braves rested today with Pitchers Freddie Hutchinson and Hal White.

The victory-hungry Bengals dropped their third exhibition contest in a row to the National league club yesterday, 2 to 1.

Although Detroit could collect but three hits off a trio of Boston pitchers, young Art Houtteman of the Tigers did his share and held the Braves to a single run in six innings.

In the seventh Detroit's Rufus Gentry took over and hit the first batsman he faced. That put another run on for the Braves and Detroit couldn't catch up again.

Don Dougherty, rugged Manistique middleweight, scored a TKO victory over John Barr, Jr., of Bark River, in the second round of their windup match at the Manistique Lions club boxing show Monday night at Manistique. Dougherty caught Barr off balance with a flurry of blows to the head and Referee Jim Mancini stopped the bout.

Tim MacGregor, of Manistique scored a narrow decision over Dwight Arneson of Gladstone in a repeat performance of the Golden Glove match the two lads fought at Escanaba in January. MacGregor took the decision by virtue of a stronger finish than his opponent.

Don Little, Escanaba lightweight, was in rare form in scoring a second round TKO victory over Vernon Dionne, of Marinette. It was a savage fight while it lasted. The Marinette youngster proved he was an able competitor for the hard hitting Escanaban. Little scored a knockdown early in the first but Dionne came back to floor Little in the same round. In the second Little caught Dionne with a terrific right smash to the head and the referee stopped the proceedings.

John Radmacher of Escanaba won a decision over Llewellyn Chartier of Manistique in a pleasing middleweight bout. Rade-macher, one of the newcomers to the Escanaba boxing center, showed excellent progress.

Cliff Johnson of Manistique stopped Ray Moen of Rock in 1:27 of the second round. Cletus Chartier of Manistique won the nod over James Froberg of Escanaba. Don Schinjeck of Marinette, de-cisioned Jack Cody of Manistique in a bloody battle that featured plenty of action. Emmett Fagan of Manistique scored a TKO victory over Louis Brunette of Escanaba in 1:30 of the first round. Bob Minor of Manistique stopped Clarence Hall of Rock by TKO route in the second after two first round knockdowns.

Jimmy Valentine, Escanaba 120 pound newcomer, looked like a seasoned performer in his first bout to score a unanimous decision over Joe Halvorsen of Manistique in the opener.

Leonard Sharkey, Escanaba middleweight, who was scheduled to meet George Dougherty of Munising, did not get into action when Dougherty waived out of the competition.

The Tigers scored their lone tally in the second, when Ed Mierkiewicz singled off Johnny Beazley and advanced to second on Pat Mullin's base on balls. Then George Kell bunted safely to load the bases.

A second pass. This one to Bob Swift—sent home the only Detroit score.

Strategy, Finesse, Pitching Must Be Detroit's Weapons

Lakeland, Fla., March 23 (P)—Strategy and finesse on the bases, plus airtight pitching by one of the best mound staffs in baseball, must be the big weapons of the 1948 Detroit Tigers if they are to figure in the American League flag fight.

Deals in which the Tigers have cut loose such power hitters as Rudy York, Hank Greenberg and Roy Cullenbine, their top sluggers and leading producers of runs batted-in, over a two-year span in which Detroit twice finished second have stripped the Bengals of their long-ball swatters.

Unless one of their potential long hitters of the outfield—Dick Wakefield or Vic Wertz—takes up the slugging slack this season the Tigers will have to get their runs with singles.

It will take a lot of singles to keep up the run production of a Detroit club that was topped in that department in 1947 by only two rivals, the pennant-winning New York Yankees and the Boston Red Sox.

The Tigers finished third in runs scored with just one 300 hitter in the lineup—Third Baseman George Kell, who hit .320 and drove across 93 runs.
